

Rachel Frenkel
Mezzo Soprano

An ensemble member of the Wiener Staatsoper, young mezzo-soprano Rachel Frenkel is increasingly in demand on the international stages, especially as an interpreter of Mozart and Rossini. She has performed her signature-role of Cherubino in Le Nozze di Figaro at the Bayerische Staatsoper Munich, conducted by Ivor Bolton, with the Los Angeles Philharmonic conducted by Gustavo Dudamel, the Edinburgh International Festival and Mostly Mozart Festival New York with the Budapest Festival Orchestra and Iván Fischer, at the Wiener Staatsoper and at the Lyric Opera of Chicago.

Elsewhere, she has performed Dorabella in Così fan tutte at the Semperoper Dresden, Idamante in Idomeneo at the Opéra de Lille, conducted by Emmanuelle Haïm, Ramiro in La Finta Giardiniera, conducted by Robin Ticciati, at Glyndebourne Festival, Rosina in Il barbiere di Siviglia at the Staatsoper Berlin, under Daniel Barenboim, the Semperoper Dresden and the Staatsoper Wien, where she has also sung Angelina in La Cenerentola, Fenena in Nabucco, Stephano in Romeo et Juliette, Wellgunde in Das Rheingold and Götterdämmerung, and, most recently, Siébel in Faust and Ruggiero in Alcina, conducted by Marc Minkowski.

Other recent highlights include Nicklausse in Stefan Herheim's production of Les contes d'Hoffmann at the Bregenzer Festspiele, Komponist in Ariadne auf Naxos at Staatsoper Hamburg, and Mercédès in Carmen at the Osterfestspiele Salzburg, with Sir Simon Rattle. She gave her debut at the Salzburger Festspiele as Stimme des Falken in Die Frau ohne Schatten and at the Festspielhaus Baden-Baden as Dryade in Ariadne auf Naxos, both under the baton of Christian Thielemann.

As a member of the opera studio at Staatsoper Berlin Ms Frenkel performed Mercédès in Carmen, Flora in La Traviata, Siebel in Gounod's Faust, Cherubino in Le Nozze di Figaro, Dorabella in Così fan tutte, Milli in Der Ferne Klang and Zaida in Rossini's Il turco in Italia.

In concert, she has sung Bach's Magnificat with the Berliner Philharmoniker conducted by Ton Koopman, Vivaldi's Stabat Mater with Camerata Salzburg, Bernstein's Symphony no 1 with the NHK Symphony Orchestra Tokyo, Rossini's Petite messe solennelle with the Flemish Radio Choir and Hervé Niquet at the Concertgebouw Amsterdam, the Mozart Requiem with the Borusan Istanbul Philharmonic Orchestra, Mahler's Rückert Lieder with the Japan Century Symphony Orchestra in Osaka, Bernstein's Jeremiah Symphony with the Tonhalle-Gesellschaft Zürich and Mallika in Delibes' Lakmé with the BR Rundfunkorchester Munich. She has also appeared with all major Israeli orchestras in a variety of repertoire from the baroque to the 20th century, including Rossini's Stabat Mater and Haydn's Arianna a Naxos with the Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra.

In 2017/18, Ms Frenkel returns to the Wiener Staatsoper as Cherubino as well as Komponist in Ariadne auf Naxos and Rosina in Il Barbiere di Siviglia, gives her house debut as Sesto in La Clemenza di Tito at Théâtre du Capitole in Toulouse, performs Bernstein with the MDR Sinfonieorchester Leipzig and appears in recital with Boris Giltburg at Duisburg Konzerthaus.

Ms Frenkel graduated at the Buchmann- Mehta School of Music in Tel Aviv and participated in the New Israeli Opera Young Artist Program, where she performed the roles of Hänsel in Hänsel und Gretel and Zweite Dame in Die Zauberflöte. She is the recipient of scholarships from the Tel Aviv University and The America-Israel Sharet Artists Foundation.
